Girls in the Gap

Every day, girls of all ages leave home for college or new careers. These opportunities are fun and exciting, but they can put you in a vulnerable place. As you leave behind the security and accountability of your family, friends, and church, it creates a gap the Enemy will try to use to his advantage. But the good news is that God is with you, and He has a plan for you! Drawing from Scriptural insights and personal experience, Ashley shares practical ways to:

- Find confidence and clarity in God's Word
- Increase your awareness of the Enemy's schemes
- Stay grounded, instead of scattered, in this season of life
- Sense God's peaceful presence instead of loneliness and insecurity
- Live daily without regret

(This presentation is designed for girls ages 16-25.)

Eeny, Meeny, Miny, Moe...

Decisions, decisions. From dating to course work, to choosing a career path, there seems to be no end to the amount of decisions you have to make through high school and college. While most young people make the best decisions they can, their choices are often based on guesswork, emotions, and even peer pressure. Wouldn't it be great if you had a guide book to help you know how to make "the right" decisions so you didn't have regret later on? You do! In this talk, Ashley shares her personal story and shows you how to use the Bible as your guidebook for life so that you can:

- Develop a rock-solid faith in God (our Ultimate Guide) even amidst life's pressures
- Understand the bigger direction God has for your spiritual life
- Recognize if an opportunity is from God or the Enemy
- Develop confidence in making "the right" decisions on a daily basis

(This presentation is designed for high school and college groups.)
